REVIEW OF MARKETS FINANCIAL AND COMMBRCIAL

Stocks, Money, Exchange, Bonds, Grain, Cotton, Provisions, Etc.

New York, May 25 .- Transactions in stocks were on a larger scale and tradwed more animation than for veral days past. There were evidences of a considerable outside interst in the market, especially in railroad stocks. But operations continued still in very large part in professional It was a conflict between the bulls and bears for supremacy and the buils easily had the best of it. They were several conditions that aroused apprehension on the part of the used and they showed a disposition to cover short contracts from the outset. Apparently there had been a quiet picking up of stocks from the long account in the recent depression and the holders could get them as the shorts. They rocceded therefore to bid up the market and induced quite an active movement for both accounts. The decision of the stock exchange to keep closed of the stock exchange to keep closed on the shorts. They are shown in the long and short. The market hestlated only momentarily at the opening. At which time low prices for the day were rade in rearly all cases and then move the high level, but very substantial networks the were several conditions that aroused apprehension on the part of the bears,
